It's So Hard To Say Goodbye

The Class of 1976 has now reached its final days at TJ. With the end of this year, it is time to glance back at forgotten experiences, to remember what high school was all about.

The "far away" thought of high school became a reality at the first registration in our sophomore year. We felt small and not very important, but thought ahead to when we would be Juniors. It was a new sensation to be going to such a large school after attending our junior highs, but we made the adjustment.

The time finally came when we were juniors. We started to be more active at school, going to Varsity football games, homecoming, and all sorts of events. We also started to think about college, and the tests we would have to take. When that summer came, we all breathed a little easier knowing that next year we would be seniors.

After three short months of vacation, we realized that we were finally at the top, and near the end of our high school adventure. We enjoyed the sports and dance activities we went to, but were anxiously awaiting the coming of graduation. It seemed as if it would be an eternity.

Now, here we are today, having to make the decisions that will govern the rest of our lives. We begin to realize that the world we enter is more complex than we had thought. Yesterday high school was far away and college was an eternity, but today high school is over, and life begins tomorrow.

TJ has given its students many tastes of what tomorrow will be like; some sweet, some bitter, but all valuable. The time has now arrived for each of us to go his own way — to seek his own future, and make use of what he has learned while at high school.

The memories of TJ will always remain a part of each of us; the friendships we have made, everlasting ones. Now the senior year has slipped away, and we have much to look forward to, but so much to remember.

If you like adventure
try the Army.

You could be pulling yourself up a mountain instead of pushing a broom, working in the sky instead of a stockroom. Living off the land in Arizona. Or shooting the rapids of the Colorado River. Today's Army has jobs for the man who wants more out of life. More physical challenge. More adventure. More opportunity to prove what you can do on your own.

If you qualify, we'll train you for the job you want. And start you at $361 a month with a raise to $402 after four months.

“Do you know where you’re going to?”

Do you know where you’re going to?

Do you like the things that life is showing you?

Where are you going to, do you know?

Do you get what you’re hoping for?

When you look behind you there’s no open door.

What are you hoping for, do you know?

Once we were standing still in time, chasing the fantasies that filled our minds.

And you know how I love you but my spirit was free, laughing at the questions that you once asked of me.

Do you know where you’re going to?

Do you like the things that life is showing you?

Where are you going to, do you know?

Now looking back at all we planned, we let so many dreams just slip through our hands.

*Why must we wait so long before we see how sad
the answers to those questions can be?*
